Who are we?

METMOX, a prominent business in cybersecurity spread over three regions on the globe with most flexible offerings. METMOX designed functional operation centres to take out the complexity in strengthening your security program and network operations. MMSS is one of the major things we do.

what is an MMSS?

MMSS (Metmox Managed Security Services) are exceptionally helpful for offloading tedious or bulk security tasks. These tasks include Incident response, Vulnerabilities, VPM, Virus/spam blocking, Intrusion detection, System changes, Log monitoring with 24*7 expert staffing and above all at reduced costs and Real-time information.

Originally MMSS adoption is driven in large enterprises, but troubles over advanced persistent threats (APTs) have led smaller organizations to understand the give-away of a SIEM managed security service provider (MMSS) can offer.

MMSS provide a team of security specialists who can help as widely or narrowly as desired. It stretches security budgets for companies to have in-house security services. MMSS offer several opportunities to support these situations.

How Metmox fits

✓ Metmox operates many leading third-party IT security solutions, our own security technologies, and hybrid installations.

✓ Metmox provides a 24*7 SOC without an organization having built and staff one themselves. Around-the-clock SOC means having experts available whenever a security incident occurs.

✓ Clients can obtain a world-class SOC at METMOX that meets high-facility standards for a fraction of the cost of standing up their own center. Incident Management and Incident Handling is done within a given SLA

✓ Over 200+ security specialists are working towards perfection nurturing our services. METMOX becomes the world's biggest security provider while creating new landmarks in threat hunting technologies and thereby making your operations intact.

✓ The technology and methods we use will speed up deployment, enhances flexibility now and in the future, and allow more opportunities for balancing security, cost, convenience and scalability to best meet the business needs.

✓ Metmox MMSS offers extended support from enterprises for small organizations to flexible augmentation for larger ones. With customized services and products, we meet the expectations of the client in no time.

What Metmox MMSS does

In the realm of technology-driven lives, we rely on machine-generated data. Every organization including the private and public enterprises have imbibed machine data and perceiving digitalization effects.

At Metmox, we start the services by turning the machine data of your company into operational intelligence using Metmox MMSS. We use Splunk SIEM tool as a bridge between your network and our MMSS. Once we schedule when and how to integrate our services, the onboarding process begins with very minimal steps.

Benefits of using Metmox MMSS

➢ Regular operational reporting through our METMOX Portal visualized dashboards, and automated monthly reports will be sent.
➢ Metmox App/ our dashboard consists of windows events, firewalls, authentication, thread-intel and many more. You can access this data whenever required and from anywhere.
➢ Based on requirements clients can receive alerts either in reactive or proactive ways.
➢ The dashboard gives a clear picture of all the logs. Reports are the same logs or observations, unlike dashboard which is a visual representation of the same information.
➢ Spike in threads alert will be sent as frequently as required.
➢ When the criteria match with the use cases then alerts get triggered. This information will also be sent over Emails to the clients.
➢ Customized support is the major aspect of our services and based on license and client demands we can always make new changes and upgrade.

Today these iconic services and our products are both the foundations of our business and the inspiration for us to achieve more. To grow together every day and earn a great deal of clientele with highly enriched services is our vision.

Metmox MMSS is an affordable, strategic and comprehensive solution that is sustainable for diverse organizations. We develop the technology not just to react once the damage is done, but we are here to prevent and protect it from happening at all. This proactive approach towards threats is the reason why our services are unique and rooted in a deep sense of the client's purpose, values, and security goals.
